MAKE ME A MAN

LORD, give me the strength of the pioneer,
And the faith of his hardy soul!
Provide me with courage to persevere;
Make me fight till I reach the goal.

Let weaklings indulge in a sheltered life
Where they curse when their luck goes bad,
But fit me for battle with storm and strife;
Give me brawn like my fathers had!

I want to be known as a man who wins,
As a fellow with nerve and pluck
Who finishes everything he begins,
And as one who can whip his luck.

. . . DEDICATION . . .

We, the Senior Class of 1932, do hereby dedicate this Year Book to a man who has devoted his entire life to the service of Rindge. He has made the name Rindge a heritage. We believe it is only fitting and proper that we should at the end of four years under his faithful guidance dedicate this book to our beloved Head Master, Mr. John W. Wood.

A REVIEW OF "OLD RINDGE"

THE RINDGE TECHNICAL SCHOOL was founded in 1888 by Frederick H. Rindge, a wealthy Cambridge citizen, who gave to the city of his birth not only a technical school, but a city hall and a public library. He chose for his first principal, Mr. Harry Ellis, who had been active in the founding of the school. On June 1, 1888, the following notice was issued to the pupils of the grammar schools:

"The committee in charge of the new industrial school, given to the city by Frederick H. Rindge, wishes to state for the benefit of pupils who desire to attend that it is intended to open the school the coming fall.

Boys will be taken upon graduation from the grammar schools, or an equivalent, for a three year course, to include one hour daily for drawing and two hours for shop work, the latter to include courses in Carpentry and Joinery. Wood Turning, Pattern Making, Printing, Casting. Blacksmithing, Chipping, Filing, and Machine Work, with practice in actual care of engines and boilers.

The school will be free to boys of good physique who have been residents of Cambridge for two years. A course of study at the English High School will be planned, to be taken in connection with the Industrial School. This course, though not definitely fixed, will probably be as follows: Mathematics, History, Physiology, and Chemistry, Civil Government, French or German."

With our present numbers it does not seem possible that the beginning in 1888 was with but one building, which we have always called the "Shop Building."

At first no academic work was carried on here, all the boys marching with military precision to the old English High School.

In these early years the school was famous as an experiment station in a new kind of education, the technical education. Equally famous were the men who guided its destinies at this critical period. Among these might be mentioned, in addition to Mr. Rindge, the Honorable William E. Russell, the father of our present mayor, Thomas Wentworth Higginson, and Harry Ellis, the first Head Master of the School.

In 1892 the school was established firmly enough to warrant the addition of a second building. Thus it was that the building we knew as the "Science Building," was erected in the rear of the "Shop Building" and was connected to the latter structure by a covered passageway.

Three years later the school met with an irreparable loss through the death of Harry Ellis, who had, combined with extraordinary executive ability, a deep understanding of the needs of the boys who attended the school.

The first phase in the history of the School closes in 1898 when Mr. Rindge relinquished control. The transfer was accomplished without any loss of efficiency. In recognition of our debt to the founder, the name of the School was changed from the "Cambridge Manual Training School" to the "Rindge Manual Training School." It is not easy to put in figures the amount of the gifts which Mr. Rindge made to his city and to the boys who benefited by them, but after the buildings were erected and equipped, for ten years he maintained the school at a cost of twenty-five thousand dollars each year.

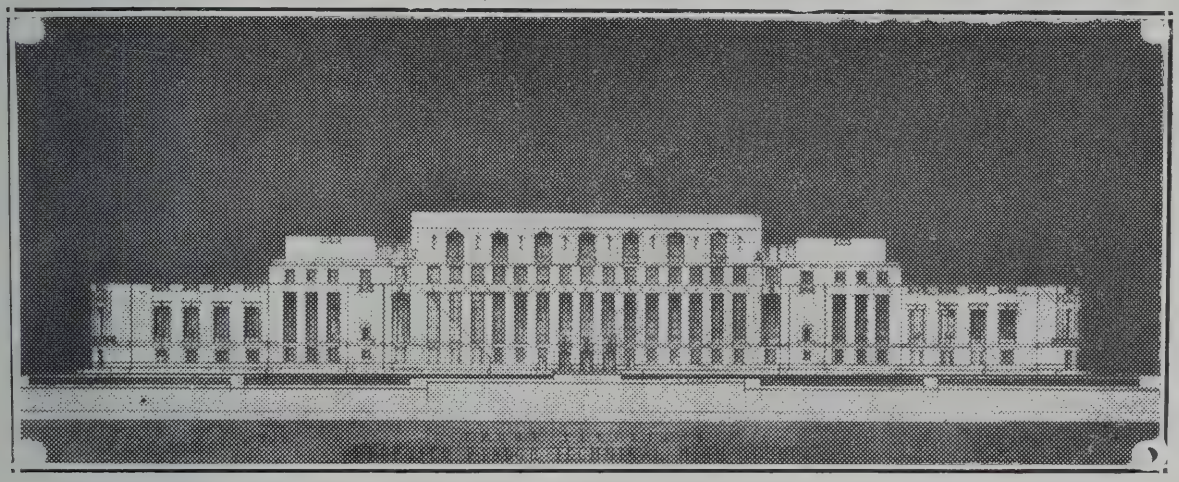

In 1902 a new school building was erected on the Rindge School Playground, for the classes of the old Washington School, which stood on Brattle Street. When the building was erected it was understood that as the Rindge School grew, the new building would be occupied by its students. In 1905 the Washington School was transferred to the new Houghton Building, and the Technical School came into full possession of the Washington Building. Three years ago the two dwelling houses adjoining the Washington Building were acquired and next the home of former Mayor Wardwell, all of which housed classes up to this memorable year.

To meet the demands of education in the ever increasing field of technical work, it has been necessary to add entirely new courses to the curriculum and to radically revise some of the old ones. Such changes have been made as quickly as it became clear that developments in the industrial field warranted such additions. This modernizing of instruction means not only a broader training of distinctly high school grade, but also means a wider choice of vocations for the students of the school. All of the modern changes have taken place under the watchful and foreseeing eye of our present Head Master John W. Wood, who more than measures up to the standard set by Mr. Rindge himself in his appointing of Harry Ellis.

The history of Rindge fully justifies the hopes of its founder, Mr. Rindge. It is true that the school has changed but such changes have come in response to the changes in the life of the community and in spite of these changes, the school continues faithfully to carry out the purposes for which it was founded.

FAREWELL TO OLD RINDGE!
HAIL, NEW RINDGE!

THE NEW RINDGE TECH BUILDING

AS OUR BOOK goes to press, our dream, the New Rindge, is beginning to take form. Anyone who has visited the main office during the last four months has been confronted with a mass of plans, blueprints, etc. Our headmaster has labored long and hard to make the new school the best in the land.

The building will contain about eighty-five classrooms, several offices, a gymnasium, an auditorium (which will seat fifteen hundred people), a cafeteria on the top floor, and many other modern conveniences which students at the Cambridge Manual Training School, the ancestor of Rindge Technical School, would be at a loss to understand. The rooms will be connected by a telephone system. In the auditorium there will be a motion picture machine equipped for sound productions for visual education. The stage will have all the appurtenances for presenting dramatics and other forms of entertainment.

When we return in future years, it will be as a stranger to a new city. We will be proud to have graduated from a set of buildings rich with tradition, but we will also be glad that these antiquated buildings have been replaced by the beautiful building as pictured above.

Mr. John William Wood

OUR HEAD-MASTER---MR. JOHN W. WOOD

GRADUATION always produces a certain sadness intermingled with the usual accompanying joys. We are sorry at this time because we realize that our high school days are a thing of the past. No longer are we high school students. We are sorry at this time because we have to leave behind friends we may never see again. Joy also is in the air at graduation because we know that we have completed successfully the prescribed course. We are also joyful in the realization that we are members of the Rindge Alumni and as such have a definite responsibility. We will return to her often for the sturdy advice and counsel that we shall surely need.

The headmaster of our school typifies what a principal of Rindge should be. He was ever ready to assist us in our difficulties and yet placed us on our own responsibility to a degree that made our characters stronger and more sturdy.

To John W. Wood, our headmaster, we extend our heart-felt appreciation at this time of parting. The benefits and advice he has given us we cannot as yet fully comprehend. None the less we cherish a sincere regard for him and know we are better and will be better youths because of our associations with him. At the closing of four happy years we have spent under his care we go forth hoping by our lives to bring honor and glory to Rindge. This truly would be an admirable method of showing our appreciation to our beloved headmaster.

MR. JAMES F. CONLIN

FOUR YEARS AGO we entered Rindge and were immediately informed by the upper classmen that under no circumstances or conditions should we arouse the wrath of a man, who to outward appearances seemed pleasant and harmless. As time passed we realized the wisdom of the advice we had received. This man became our friend, our adviser. He showed us the way. Fair, just, friendly and yet firm and unswerving when rules or regultaions of the school were broken.

As we glance back over our four years we can fully appreciate the value of Mr. Conlin to our Alma Mater. His advice and counsel helped us to see our goal more clearly, and when we chanced to stray from the path of righteousness in school matters this man brought us back abruptly and decisively.

Mr. Conlin, we will never forget you. Your fatherly attitude, both disciplinary and advisory, has served to make of us, we hope, a class of boys, soon to be men, that Rindge will always be proud to call her own.

MR. FRANCIS T. Mc CABE

WE FIND HERE THE MAN who was responsible in a large measure for the positions many of us obtained while in school and for those positions that many of us will fill on leaving school. He has established contacts with firms that will make our paths much clearer than they would have been. Highly sympathetic, this man has spent many, many hours endeavoring to place the Rindge boys in profitable positions.

We were indeed sorry to lose him in our Senior Year, but it was found necessary to place him in charge of the Freshman and Sophomore classes located at the Harvard School. What we lost the lower classes gained. We know these classes will be stronger, truer Rindge men for having come in contact with that sympathetic, friendly person—Mr. Francis T. McCabe.

. . . PROLOGUE . . .

A GRAY HAIRED MAN sits in an easy chair before a roaring fire, gazing moodily into the flames. There is a book on his lap; it is a brown covered book. He sees in the swirling smoke the school he attended, the faces of his old school comrades, they are indistinct. He opens the book. He sees the well-known and well-loved faces on every page. Pleasant memories throng his brain. His class had experiences that no other class could claim; the hustle and bustle of vacating the old Rindge Tech. buildings; the annexation of Latin School; the acquisition of the Biological Labratory through the courtesy of Harvard University. He sees the faces of the boys who were always in trouble. He remembers the studying and the good times he used to have. He wonders where his classmates have wandered. There are probably some still in old Cambridge; others have strayed to all parts of the globe. Some may have become famous; others live quiet lives. He is glad, oh, so glad, that he has that treasure book to recall to his memory those beloved places and fond recollections of the Class of Nineteen Thirty-Two.

He quietly turns the pages of his book.

Mr. WILLIAM H. MAHONEY, Jr.

WE, THE CLASS OF 1932, consider ourselves fortunate in having Mr. Mahoney as a friend and an adviser. It has been largely through his untiring efforts that all our class activities have been successful.

His personality is such that one who is brought in contact with him places immediate trust in his sagacity, and confidence in his judgement.

No problem is too small nor yet too large for Mr. Mahoney. He throws all of his indefatigable energy into every task without any compensation except the profound thanks of the student body. The advice and experience secured by associating with him will always remain with the Class of '32. It is almost impossible to put into words the expression of gratitude which the Senior Class owes to Mr. William H. Mahoney, Jr.

1932 CLASS HISTORY

FOUR YEARS AGO the greatest, the largest, the smartest class entered at Rindge. After many difficulties with the upper classmen, who persisted in letting us know of our unimportance and of their consequent importance, we became established and started our careers at Rindge.

Each day our class could be seen eagerly wending their various ways toward that great and honorable dispenser of higher education. Soon we became full fledged Rindgeites—members of the "Locker Club" and the "Tunnel Club". As a class we settled down to the business of acquiring an education and the Honor Roll was graced by our names in an astounding number. Quite a few of us had our names placed upon the rosters of the various clubs and organizations. These clubs included the Travel Club under Mr. Goepper, the Glee Club under the now departed Mr. Whoriskey, and the Traffic Squad under Mr. Burke. We also co-operated in the social affairs and a goodly number had parts in the Operetta and the Senior Drama. On the field of sports our class was pre-eminent considering we were in our first year. Then came the summer vacation which we all, of course, disliked very much.

Behold us in September, 1929, full fledged Sophomores, wise, all knowing Sophomores, casting a contemptuous eye on the lowly Freshman. Election of officers and class organizations took place soon—but nothing further was done along this line. We elected the following: President "Pat" Kiley; Vice President, "Ray" Arthur; Secretary, Ed Darman; Treasurer, "Jimmy McDonald. Although these boys had little or no chance to demonstrate their ability we were sure we had elected the right fellows to carry on our class activities. Our class shared the proper Rindge spirit and supported the Juniors and Seniors in their undertakings. Again our class predominated numerically on the Honor Roll. In the field of sports we carried on where we left off in our Freshman year. We were again well represented in the Christmas Play and in the Senior Drama. At the conclusion of this year we had reached the halfway mark in our high school career. Oh, how time flies!

Soon after the beginning of our third year we elected the following class officers: President, "Pat" Kiley; Vice President, Leo Power; Secretary, "Ed" Darman; and Treasurer, "Jimmy" McDonald. The shining veneer of Rindge was well encased on us now. We conducted a Junior Prom the like of which Rindge had never known. Held at Brattle Hall under the direction of the following committee: Peter Sunukjian, Francis Corcoran, Francis Downes, Walter DeRonde, Norman Halflich, James Quimby, Clifford Irwin, and Ray Arthur, the prom was a night we will never forget. We again showed our ability scholastically, on the Honor Roll, socially at the Junior and Senior affairs, dramatically in the Senior Drama, and athletically on the various Rindge teams. We initiated an event known as "Junior Night" held in St. Paul's School Hall to provide a fund for our Senior Year Book. We produced under the guidance of Mr. Sullivan, three one-act plays and a public speaking contest.

Little did we realize as we ended our Junior year that we were the last Junior class in the Old Rindge Technical School! Farewell Old Rindge! Hail the New!

Seniors at last! It was a hard struggle and some of us fell by the wayside, but here we are, most of us ready to start the final lap in the race for graduation.

We began our last year under serious difficulties. Mr. Wood informed us that we were to receive the greatest test of loyalty to Rindge that a class ever had. Our old school had been condemned and we were forced into afternoon sessions at the Cambridge High and Latin School. It was hard but the fellows took it like real Rindge men, without grumbling. Football was practised under the most extreme difficulties, in fact in utter darkness. Finally, Harvard University offered the wing of the new Biological Laboratory for our use. This was accepted with sincere gratitude, and late in the fall things returned to a normal level.

Our class election gave offices to the following: President "Pat' Kiley; Vice-President, Leo Power; Secretary, John Coughlin; Treasurer, "Jimmy" McDonald.

Our first social was the Senior Football Dance. This was held at Brattle Hall on December 23rd. The Senior Drama was held at Brattle Hall on February 19th The play this year was a deep and dark mystery called "The Cat and The Canary." The cast included the following: Peter Sunukjian, Hugh Dodge, Walter Gedrocz, '32, A. James Buono, '31, Paul Cadorette, '31, Albert H. Nolan, '31. The lower classes were represented by George A. Durham, '33, James Flynn, '34, Albert Scheinfeldt, '33, George Chicariello, '33.

As usual this play under the direction of Mr. Sullivan was a "sell-out".

Our class meetings were held in the lecture room of Pierce Hall, a building belonging to the Harvard Engineering School.

This year book showed a vast improvement over former classes, not because of our superior ability, but because we had formulated plans for its completion at an earlier date than usual.

Plans for our Senior Reception are as yet in the embryonic stage but you may be sure we will outstrip previous performances.

As we close our Senior Year our united appreciation for the efforts of Mr. Wood, Mr. Conlin, Mr. McCabe, and the Faculty in our interests is given, fully realizing that without their assistance we would not have made much progress.

As we leave the portals of our Alma Mater we do so a much wiser, a much sturdier class than we entered. May we in years to come bring honor and glory to dear Rindge Tech.

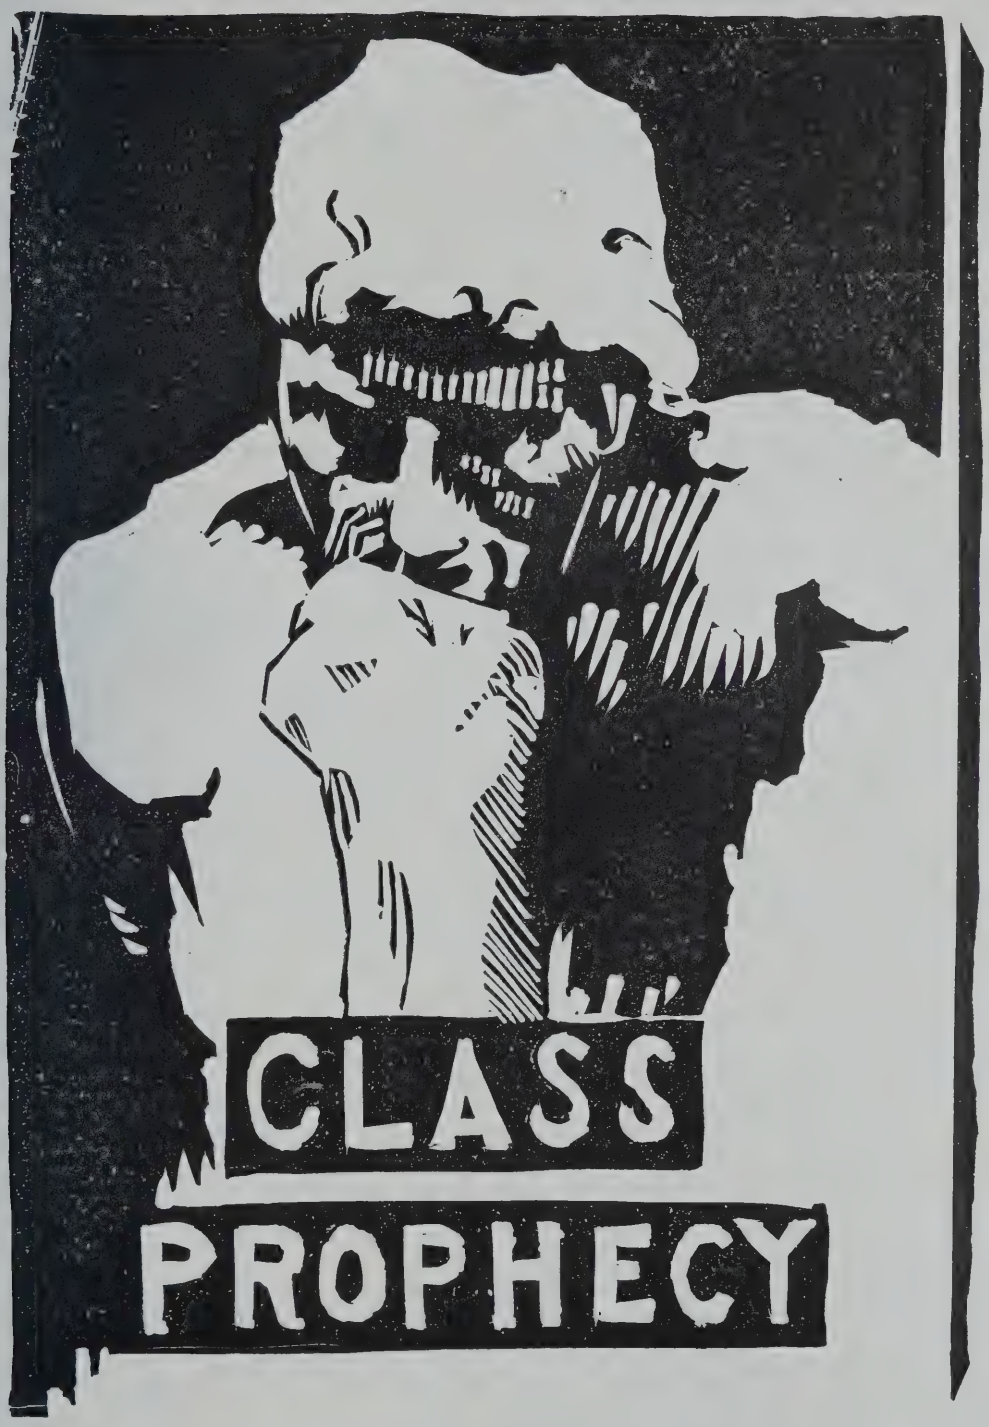

THE RINDGE REGISTER

FROM TIME IMMEMORIAL, as far as Rindge's history is concerned, the "Rindge Register" has performed its duty nobly and well. All the news of the school has been reported fairly and accurately. We will cherish the copies covering our four years at Rindge. In these copies we will, in years to come, find our high school career chronicled in a pleasant, yet truthful, manner.

The "Rindge Register" is not an ordinary high school paper—that is, we do not follow the usual procedure. We really produce our paper. From the time the event happens until it is finally set forth on the pages of this paper, it is handled only by members of the student body. Of course, behind the scenes, the ever guiding hands of Messrs. Gately, Gomes and Skinner can be discerned.

After we have departed from the portals of Rindge, we shall then appreciate our school paper.

The Senior Class unanimously nominates the "Rindge Register" the best high school paper in existence.

. . . SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY . . .

LET US JUMP FIFTEEN CHAPTERS in this book of life and view what the characters contained therein are doing. We find practically the entire class that graduated from the Rindge Technical School in 1932 has met with unprecedented success in some field.

Looking through the theatrical section of the newspaper we find the names of Joseph Baldwin, Joseph Weber, and Ralph Sennott, Broadway stars, whose talents have made them leading theatrical performers.

The "Best Authors Society" has among its members, John Falese, James Mahoney, George Parker and Thomas Collins. In the volume entitled, "The Best Poetry of 1947," we find poems by Paul Hartnett and John Lyons.

Glancing over the faculty, at Harvard College we notice that Robert Gorman is teaching Chemistry, Nicholas Fratto, Mathematics, George Yore, Modern Languages.

In the stock and bond business we find George Daniels, William Leask, Joseph Dwyer and Walter De Ronde.

At the State House we find William Kiley, Governor, and Leo Power, Lieutenant Governor; Jack Coughlan, Secretary of State, and Ed Darman, State Treasurer and Receiver General. As Commissioner of Education we find Raymond Arthur, who is aiding his friend James Mullen in his editorial work as editor of the "American Mercury." In this paper they are preparing to give John Comeau, who has been appointed a Justice of the U. S. Circuit Court, a write-up. Reading on, we find that Richard Spitzer and Charles Doyle are doing everything in their power to have that pun of legislation, known as the Volstead Act, repealed.

Picking up a copy of "The Theatre," a popular magazine, we read that Kenneth Benjamin is a famous tap dancer, that he is supported by Weslley Brown and Louis Isaacs. Reading on we notice that James Harrington has been awarded the title of the "All American Stage Door Johnnie". Wallace Malcom has assembled a popular concert orchestra. Martin Conley and Steve Gaston are starring in a picture called "Racing Blood". John Flynn and Joseph Belinski are still doing that antiquated dance renowned for its grace, "The Charleston." Joseph Torento has assembled the greatest collection of musicians for his orchestra which will play at the opening of the palatial Durrell Hall. Those selected for the orchestra and their parts are as follows: C. Barlow, F. Chinn, J. Downes, F. Dynan and W. Earle-violins; J. Kelley, H. Dodge, J. D'Agostino, H. Rose and F. Sawyer will handle the cornets; F. Tobin, W. Whelan, J. Welch and E. Minehan will play the clarinets, F. Miceli, N. Nelson, drums; F. O'Hara, piano; H. Murray, cymbals; D. Parsons, G. Pavia, P. Buckland and E. Buxton, trombones; F. Cleary and G. Leonard, bass violins. Such a collection of musicians the world has never seen, nor heard.

Walter MacDonnell, the mechanical genius, has invented a machine even more popular than the famous Ford. His leading salesman is Stuart Morash.

Across from the once new Rindge Tech we find our classmate Peter Sunukjian has opened a restaurant. Daniel Crowley is at the register and Charles Ridley is head chef. On talking to Charles we find that William Averett has crossed the English channel swimming backwards.

Arthur Harrington has opened a large printing establishment and has for his foreman Norman Haflich. Donald Terrio is head bookkeeper and Bertram Bennett is paymaster.

In the newspaper field we find Joseph Sears has been made "Sporting Editor" of the Herald; Gilbert Lawrence, "Society Editor"; Daniel Maloney, "Business Editor," James Owens, "Financial Editor," and William Ireland, "City Editor." They are all watching with interest the careers of John Burgess and Fred Bettencourt, both of whom are making good in baseball.

Richard Christian has just completed a pole to pole flight.

At the meeting of the Boston Chamber of Commerce the following men played a prominent part: H. Holden, H. Hodgdon, J. Delaney, J. Courtney, F. Cain, N. Brewer, B. Becker, F. Hamilton, G. Campbell, J. Johnston, C. Holst, E. McAuliffe, J. McCarthy, J. MacIntosh and Daniel Doody.

The following books were published during the past year:

"Wood's School Days," by J. De Armand
"The Old Stadium," by R. Deihl
"Old Rindge," by A. Nolan
"The Boys of Today," by N. Rowe

Many others that we did not chance to meet or hear about were equally as famous as those that we met but as our flight into the future was only a dream it necessarily had to end.

RINDGE SONGS

IN THE MANTLE OF THE DAWN

TUNE: "Till We Meet Again"

IN THE mantle of the dawn,
While the birds sing forth the morn,
Down beneath the sky so blue
Stands old Rindge so firm and true;
There she stands for truth and right,
Sending forth her rays of light
Clad in robes of majesty
Rindge we sing of Thee!

BE THOU our guide and stay
Leading us from day to day:
Make us true and brave and strong
Ever firm to battle wrong:
When from thee we're gone away
May we strive for thee each day
As we sail life's restless sea
Rindge we sing of Thee.

RINDGE'S WARRIORS

TUNE: " Men of Our America '

ALL HAIL to Rindge's warriors
Long may they reign supreme.
A husky bunch of warriors,
And they'll sure clean up your team
Out on the field of conflict
They bow to no team's skill
And like the men of might they are
They fight with right good will:

CHORUS

Then give a hearty cheer for Rindge—Rah! Rah!
May she never taste defeat
We'll never say "die" but
Up men and try for the Glory of Old Rindge.

Our colors are the Brown and White,
We never haul them down.
The Brown stands for the "roast" we give
Our opponents when in town.
And as the tide of battle sweeps
Their team right off the field
Don't forget, the Brown and White
Whose word is never yield.

ALMA MATER

VERSES BY EDMUND E. POWERS, JR. MUSIC BY JOHN B. WHORISKEY

RINDGE: thou glorious mother,
Loyal sons thy praises sing
To thee, as to no other,
Gratefully their homage bring
To express our devotion
Now our voices rise;
True in vic'tory's hour,
Faithful in defeat,
Rindge, our Alma Mater,
Hail! Rindge, to thee.

Rindge! 'Tis hard to sunder
Ties that chain our thoughts to thee
Words that swell like thunder
Testify our loyalty.
We will always treasure
Memories of you;
Old ties e're renewing
Ev'ry year returning
Rindge, our Alma Mater
Hail! Rindge, to Thee!

Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1932

Know all men by these presents, that we, the Senior Class of the Rindge Technical School, being of sounder memory than mind, do hereby make, publish and declare this our last will and testament.

First: We bequeath to the Class of 1933 the right to attempt to duplicate our brilliant and almost unapproachable records in studies, athletics, and social activities.

Second: We bequeath to the Class of 1933 the remains of an exciting year. Changes, changes and then more changes.

Third: We bequeath, but we hope the Class of 1933 will never be so poor as have to use them, the much carved, battered, dirty and all in all useless desks.

Fourth: We bequeath to the Class of 1933 the honor of being the first class to graduate from the New Rindge Tech. The aforesaid has been promised to many but we hope the Class of 1933 will be among the frozen few.

Fifth: Our will is that all just debts be paid by the Class of '33 as soon after our departure as shall be found convenient.

Sixth: We give thanks to the teachers and exectuives who patiently tolerated us. We feel however that the thought of our leaving in June made them bear up considerably.

Seventh: We bequeath a trust fund to be used in purchasing copies of the following books: "How to Grow Tall" and "Respect for Upper Classmen;" the aforesaid to be distributed to Freshmen on the first day; a few copies might be given to Sophomores.

Eighth: We suggest that Mr. Garvey abolish the use of "Macbeth" and "The Merchant of Venice" and substitute for the aforesaid monthly copies of "Life" and "Judge."

Ninth: We make, constitute and appoint "Tom" McLaughlin as keeper of this our will, realizing the wonderful work he has done as "keeper of the key."

Witness our hand this 6th day of June 1932, at Cambridge, Massachusetts.

The Class of 1932

The foregoing instrument was signed, published, and declared as and for their last will and testament, and at their request, and in our presence, and in the presence of each other, we here unto suscribe our names as attesting witnesses at Cambridge, Massachussetts, this 6th day of June 1932.

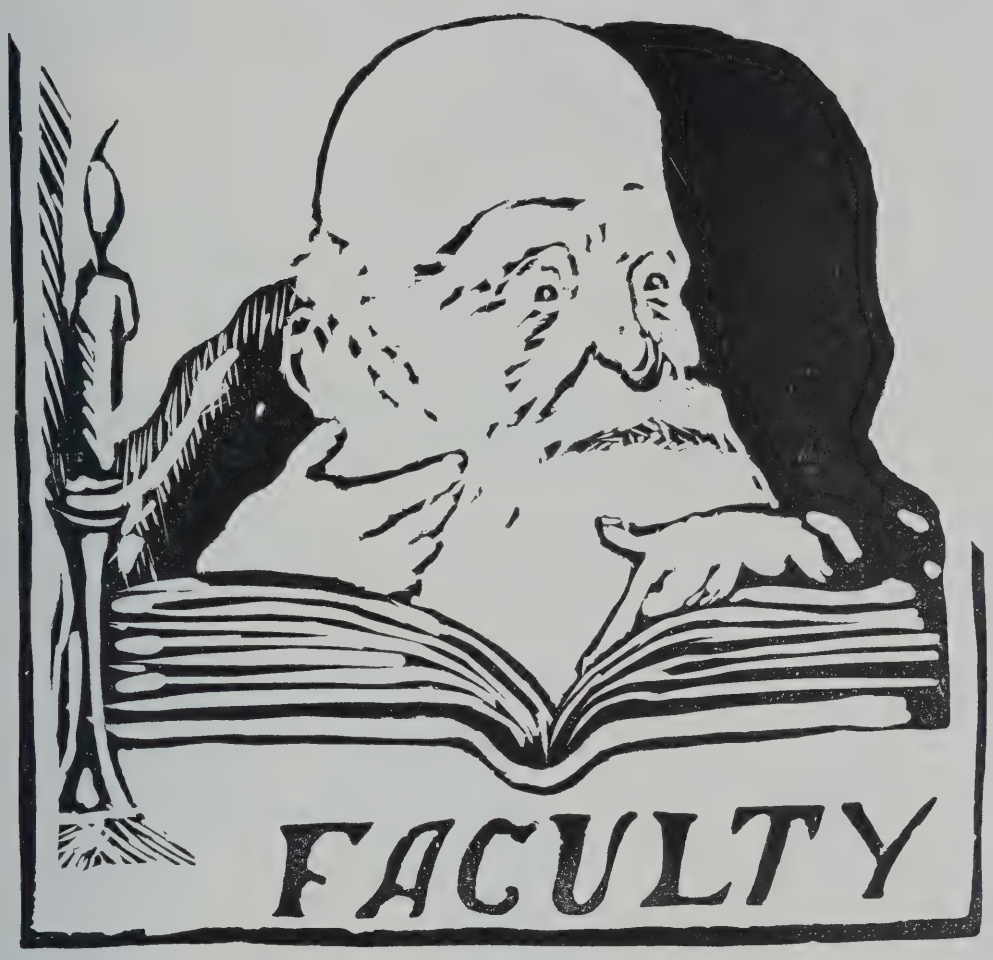

John W Wood

James F. Conlin

Francis V. McCabe

P. S. The swearing to or at was ommitted because Miss R. went by as we were signing.

The Class of 1932

Cut in Linoleum by William Sousa

ONE THING IS UNDOUBTED AT THE RINDGE TECHNICAL SCHOOL. It is that we are possessed of a most remarkable and celebrated faculty.

MISS ROGERS has helped our class in many ways. Her personal friendship and advice have been extremely helpful and inspiring. We will always remember her as a friend; a true friend.

MISS BLAKE possesses the rare faculty of being both a teacher and a mother to her pupils. We her children, thank her for the confidence she had in us.

MR. BOCKMANN has instilled in each class, as it passes through the portals of Rindge, the love for out-door sports. For this all classes are everlastingly grateful.

MR. BURKE, our traffic squad director, is responsible in a large measure for the precision and order that accompanies the moving of the student body from one section of the building to another.

MR. D'ARCY is a perfect gentleman and an accomplished scholar. Never is he too busy to lend a helping hand to a fellow no matter what the difficulty may be.

MR. GARVEY: His correct and precise English puts to shame those of us who have not mastered this difficult tongue.

MR. GOEPPER holds the interest of the class by his instructive lectures in History, Economics, and Law. He may be sure that any reluctance to attend his class was solely due to failure to prepare the lesson.

MR. GRIFFITHS: The kindliest and most modest man we have ever met—one admired by all.

MR. LADD: An interesting man with an interesting course. To listen to him is to hear words of wisdom.

MR. LINEHAN: His classes in Mathematics are a treat. One almost believes Mathematics is easy the way Mr. Linehan puts the matter across.

MR. McLAUGHLIN: Our genial baseball coach, who also "bats out" a very interesting course in English.

MR. MULLEN: A new and welcome addition to our faculty. His classes are always examples of vim, vigor and vitality.

MR. MURRAY: The man who would make us all electrical minded. He conducts a "shocking" good course.

MR. NISSEN conducts classes in very difficult subjects, but this man knows these subjects so well that he really makes them seem easy.

MR. O'CONNELL: The plump, good-natured individual who finds it difficult to be cross. We will miss his pleasing smile.

MR. PAINE: Our pleasant instructor in the wood-working courses was a friend to each student that came in contact with him.

MR. PREBLE: With awe we watched this man turn out, from a simple piece of steel, some remarkable objects.

MR. SCOTT: A sincere, quiet, yet remarkable teacher. Always willing to help along those that were lagging.

MR. WADDEN: The giant of our teaching force, was a kindly, pleasant man. His classes were beaming examples of cheerfulness.

MR. WICKSON: His laboratory was always a scene of activity. Experiments in the radio field were always highly interesting.

MR. WISEMAN: His interest in school athletics showed his feeling toward his students. This class will miss him but will never forget him.

MR. DENNEHY: He is a new arrival among us but in the short time he has been here he has endeared himself to those who have come in contact with him.

MR. T. McLAUGHLIN: As "Keeper of the Keys" he was ever ready to take or give that 25c. deposit, providing of course we had the key to return.

We know that each teacher in the school deserves a note of commendation but space will not permit this. Hence we have chosen those we met during our Senior year. Such teachers as Mr. Richert, Mr. Mahoney, and Mr. MacDonald having helped directly in making this year book a success, will naturally receive an individual compliment in keeping with the vast amount of labor each expended on this book.

Cut in Linoleum by Joseph A. Connolly

MR. JOHN B. WHORISKEY

It is difficult to begin.

It is true that there are times when words will not serve. They lose all flavor of meaning and you can't use them but you fall instantly into banality and insincerity. It is hard to write about any dear friend. Mr. Whoriskey's life was a rich one. He was engaged in work that he loved. All men are not this fortunate. He labored all his life in the services of beauty, bringing with him wherever he went the ever gentling influence of his chosen muse, and kindling in many lives the noble quality of love of music.

I would like to think of him less as a musician and more as a man but for the reasons indicated at the beginning we find it difficult. Words are cold vessels to contain warm thoughts. His friends will not soon forget him, and as long as we we live shall see that handsome white head of his shining above the pit, with his baton poised for the overture.

MR. GEORGE F. ODENWALD

1886--1930

On Friday, February 21, 1930, Mr. Odenwald died at the Cambridge Hospital. The news of his death came with startling suddenness. It was difficult for us at that time to realize that he had gone from our midst. He had served as a teacher at Rindge for ten years and had in this time become one of the pillars of its foundation. He was very much interested in athletics. He was a loyal and enthusiastic supporter of all Rindge teams and rarely missed a game.

His loyalty to the school was an outstanding trait of his character. Other characteristics that will long be remembered by us were his happy disposition, his cheerful smile and his ready wit. He is gone but his smiling countenance will shine through our lives as an example of a loyal Rindge teacher.

THANK YOU

SENIORS, AS WE LEAVE THE PORTALS OF RINDGE we do not fully realize the importance of this, our year book. Years after we have departed from our Alma Mater we will cherish and prize this edition. We shall recall those that made the book possible. Foremost in our minds will be a mental picture of the boys in the Printing Department, Mr. Richert and Mr. McDonald planning and helping in all possible ways. Had not these friends showed such a fine co-operative spirit this book would, of necessity, have been a failure.

As we leave Rindge, we leave these friends behind us. In unison the Class of '32 wishes to express its undying gratitude and appreciation to Mr. Richert and Mr. McDonald and the Printing Department.

THE RINDGE FOOTBALL TEAM

ON THANKSGIVING DAY the football team played its concluding game on the 1932 schedule, leaving us many pleasant memories. The season was not a brilliant one from a standpoint of victories, the team having won two games, tied two games, and losing six bitter struggles. In spite of the defeats, the season may well be called a successful one. In defeating C. H. L. S., the team accomplished three things: first, it defeated one ancient rival three years in succession second, it won the championship of the City; and third, it obtained the first leg of the American Legion Trophy which will be given to the school winning the City championship for three years.

In tying with Somerville on Thanksgiving Day, the team accomplished the seemingly impossible. Somerville was favored, but through grit and determination our team gained what a newspaper termed a "technical victory". Hence, a team that defeats and outplays its two arch rivals surely has terminated a successful season.

Prominent in this success were the following: Captain George Parker, who played a "bang-up" game at end; Gilbert Lawrence, whose quarterbacking was of the best; Dan Maloney, who showed the fans how a ball should be carried; Al Bond played a great game at guard; Wally Belushko held down the end; Joe Sears, our, huge tackle; George Bettencourt was our pivot man; Jack Burgess held down the other tackle, John Stobo, our fastest back, Jim MacDonald filled in at center. Of course, the Juniors and other classes had representatives, but this is a Senior Book hence, these underclassmen will have to wait until they "arrive."

The team was coached by Mr. Murphy and Mr. Metivier who, as usual, turned out a remarkable product considering the severe handicap under which they labored.

Mr. Henry Lynch, our genial Faculty Manager, was again on hand to have Rindge lead the way in "sporty attire". Mr. Lynch is a remarkable man, he can spend money and still have it. Rindge is always outfitted well, yet our treasury is always sizeable. Last, but not least, comes our Student Manager, Anthony Notargiacomo energetic, hard working, and yet always smiling.

All in all, Rindge had a wonderful year.

OUR OUTDOOR TRACK TEAM

LOOKING BACK OVER THE RECORDS, one will see that Rindge has always stood well up in the ranks amongst school boy tracksters. With the forming of the Suburban League this year in track, Rindge's '32 team shall have the opportunity to prove that it is one of the top-notchers.

Among the milers on this year's team are "Joe" Delaney and Frank Chinn. Captain "Jake" Coughlan is the only veteran half-miler back. In the dash we have a speedy couple: "Snatch" Calnan and "Tom" Collins. Quarter-milers are "Jim" MacDonald and "Jake" Coughlan. Calnan is also our broad jumper. In the high jump we have "Clay" Rich and "Tom" Collins. With such seniors as the above plus some lower class stars, we are sure to capture plenty of meets.

The Senior Class congratulates Mr. John P. Murphy on his appointment as track coach. May he turn out such stars as he himself was at Holy Cross.

THE RINDGE BASKETBALL TEAM

RINDGE AS USUAL was represented by a strong quintet this year. In fact Rindge is the proud possessor of the Suburban League Championship as well as the city championship. Again Rindge was picked as one of the eight teams to enter the M. I. T. Tournament. In the first round we drew Brockton, the team that later reached the finals and won. Taking the year as a whole the basketball team represented our school as we would have it represented.

The Seniors on this year's team were Captain Dick Spitzer, George Parker, Dan Mahoney, Ed Minihan, Joe Sears, George Bettencourt, John Lyons and Herby Marmaud.

Captain Dick Spitzer continued his splendid showing of last year by being one of the best defensive basketball players in schoolboy circles. George Parker held down the other back position in a manner that could not be improved. Ed Minihan proved to be the scoring ace of the team. Dan Mahoney was an alternate back of no mean ability. Joe Sears, Fred Bettencourt, Herby Marmaud, and Jack Lyons proved to be able men to send in to give the regulars a breathing spell. Rindge is sorry to lose this group of athletes but she will always remember them. They served Rindge well, they proved to be true sons.

To Mr. Murphy the Senior Class wishes to extend its praise and appreciation for the noble product he made. He imparted his own fine qualities and traits of a true man to all that came into contact with him.

OUR FACULTY MANAGER

WE CANNOT SPEAK OF SPORTS, of true Rindge spirit, of loyalty, without thinking of our efficient Faculty Manager, Mr. Henry C. Lynch. Can the spirit ever die at Rindge so long as we have this man directing our athletics? As we review our four years at Rindge Mr. Lynch typifies our idea of an ardent Rindge supporter. Remember him at any event—He was actually on the field, on the floor playing the game.

We of the Senior Class wish Mr. Lynch to know that we will not forget him and will sing his praises long after we have left the halls of Rindge.

THE 1932 HOCKEY TEAM

THE SENIOR CLASS was well represented on the 1932 hockey team. They held four of the six positions on the first team.

Captain "Yaka" Burgess held down the post at left wing. He well deserved the title as he has played hockey during his four years at Rindge. Next came little "Dickie" Johnson, one of the best center-ice men in the school boy ranks. "Dickie" played three years. On right wing, Rindge had another midget in Walter MacDonnell. Walter made plenty of trouble for his opponents' goalies. On right defence another senior "Nick" Fratto was stationed.

Behenke, Averett, McCarthy, Crowley and Maloney were other seniors that saw action on the sextet.

Despite the fact that the team did not finish at the top of the league, it played some thrilling and close games.

The team was coached by the efficient "Sonny" Foley. Many times his team showed that it was coached by one of the smartest hockey players around these parts.

As usual, the team was managed by Norman L. Haflich, a human dynamo of pep and enthusiasm.

THE 1931 BASEBALL TEAM

THE CLASS OF 1932 is well represented in the list of players who will report for practice when the first call for candidates comes in March. Much will be expected from Captain "Dan" Maloney, the inimitable center fielder, from last year's team.

After Dan, according to that well-known scribe of the Senior class, Mr. A. J. Notargiacomo, comes John "Yaka" Burgess. "Yaka" is a three letter man and has proved to be a star in all three sports. He is a tireless worker and that quality is the reason for his success in baseball.

One of last year's regular baseball players who is a member of the 1932 class is John Lyons, the third baseman. John was probably the most reliable man in the pinches last year. He likes to hit a long one with men on the bases, and generally does when called upon.

Another member of the 1932 class who holds a prominent place in the baseball history is John "Jit" Falese of the twirling staff. His work on the team last year was second to none. In fact John was so humble last year that his real ability was not discovered until the season was well under way.

There are many other members of the 1932 class who have an excellent chance to represent Rindge in baseball this season. The most outstanding are George "Bullet" Parker, Herbert Marmaud, Richard Spitzer, James Owens, Martin Conley, Joe Sears, and Joe Bielinski.

In addition to the members of the 1932 class the baseball team can boast of other fine players. One of the mainstays of the pitching staff is William Chapman. He did the bulk of the work last year. With that experience behind him, it is hoped that he will lead his team to the Championship of the Suburban League just as "Teddy" Galligan did in the year 1930. This year Rindge has two dependable pitchers in Chapman and Falese.

The loss of "Buster" Reddick of the catching department last year will be felt. There is, however, a young sophomore, John Spartichino, who promises to fill Reddick's shoes. "Sparts" reported late last year and as a result did not show his real ability.

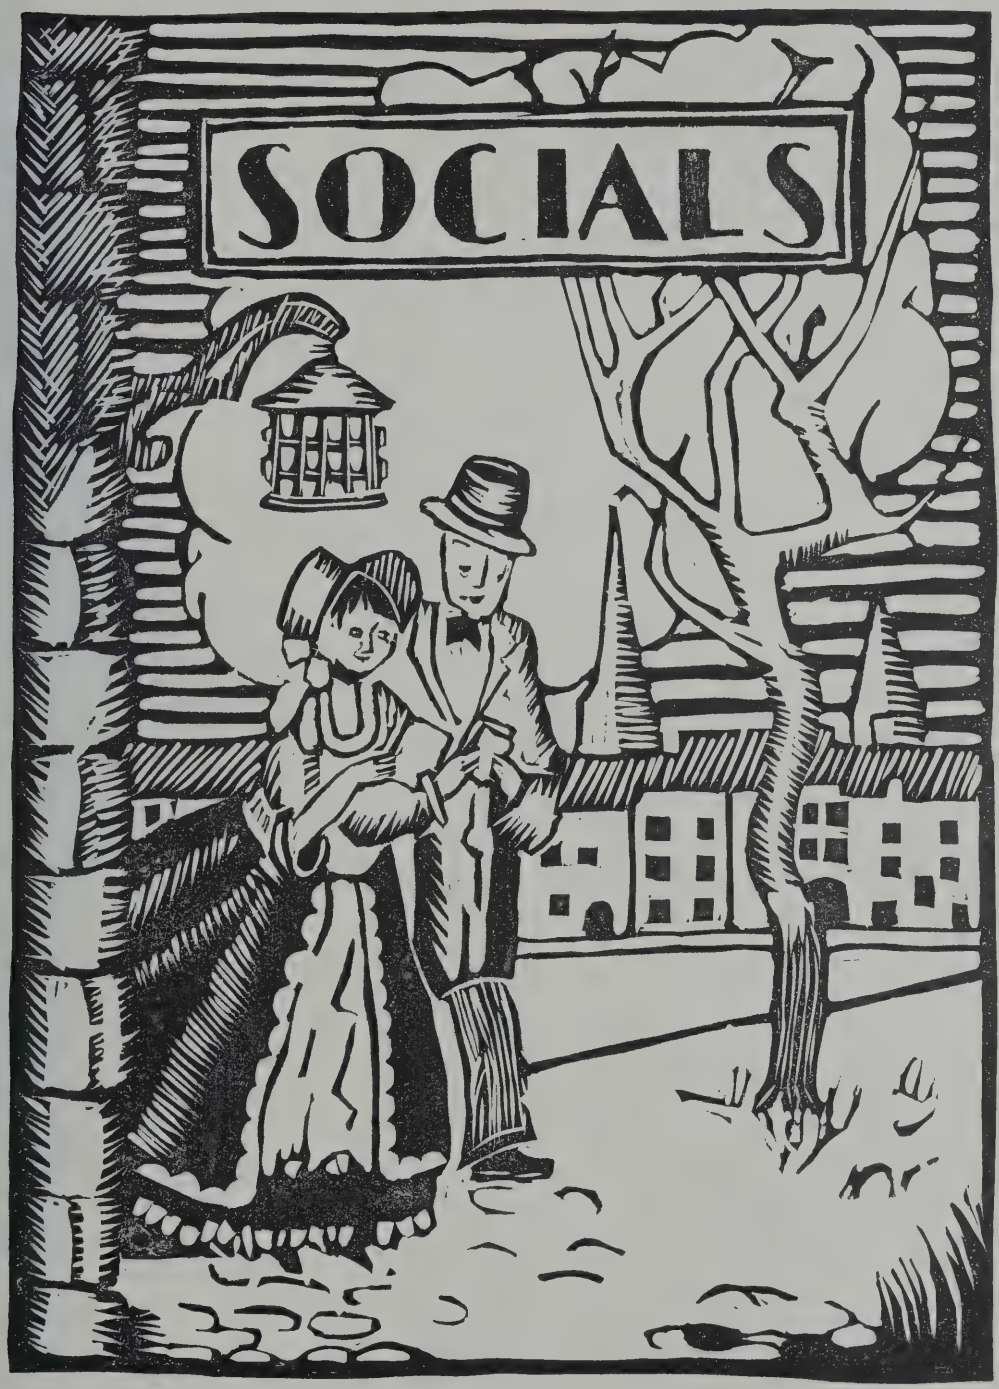

"Nick" Dergay who played as a utility man last year will certainly find a place in the lineup. He is a very dependable and conscientious worker.

Another man who will make the going rough for the infielders is John Stobo. He is a regular live wire. His speed and thinking ability will help to bolster up the Rindge team.

Other valuable men are Ray Rafuse, McGoldrick, Paratore and Hamilton. These men helped to round the regulars into form last year and may prove to be even better than their predecessors.

Many others will report for the baseball squad. They may prove to be better players than those mentioned. It is too early to make a final statement.

Mr. McLaughlin our genial baseball coach can always be relied upon to turn out a team that will bring "Glory to Old Rindge."

THE ANNUAL SENIOR DRAMA

"THE CAT AND THE CANARY,,

NO YEAR BOOK WOULD BE COMPLETE without the mention of the Senior Drama. This activity, sponsored each year by the graduating class, has become an institution and a tradition at Rindge. It has grown in popularity to such an extent that no hall in Cambridge is large enough to accommodate the crowds which flock to witness it.

Certainly this popularity is a tribute to the histrionic ability of our actors. People in general, and high school students in particular, are extremely critical of amateur theatricals. The fact that our audiences grow bigger and more enthusiastic with every new performance is the best evidence that we are pleasing them, and the safest guarantee of the permanence of the Senior Drama in the social calendar of our school.

The Class of 1932 is very proud to record that this year's production was unsurpassed by any which have preceded it. The play itself, "The Cat and the Canary," was a splendid vehicle for the exhibition of talent. A poor cast might have spoiled it, for it is one of those dramas which depend for success fully as much upon the ability of the actors as upon the appeal of the plot. The boys who took part worked faithfully and tirelessly for nearly two months, memorizing, rehearsing, drilling day after day. (Such training may be tedious at times, but it is invaluable in the development of the mind.)

On the evening of the play the ushers were impressive, reminiscent of a professional performance. They distributed beautiful souvenir programs printed. at Rindge. An unusually attentive audience crowded Brattle Hall. Applause was spontaneous and frequent. When the curtain fell on the last happy scene, the verdict seemed unanimous that the Senior Drama of 1932 was an overwhelming success.

We take this opportunity of publicly acknowleding our gratitude to Mr Sullivan who coached the production, and to Mr. Mahoney who managed it. May they continue to work together for many years to come.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

THE JUNIOR PROMENADE

THE CLASS OF '33 held its Prom at the Hotel Commander on January 29th. The affair was as successful as any time we remember. The committee headed by the Junior Class Officers included Veto Ananis, A. A. Baron, W. G. Biddiscombe, E. E. Barber, L. Katzer, C. W. Mellerup, Thomas Walsh, R. B. Wood. This committee should be congratulated on the success of this occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Wood headed the list of patrons and patronesses, followed by Miss Rogers, Miss Mosher, Miss Pike, Miss Cassidy, Mr. Ladd, Mr. O'Connell, and Mr. Scott.

The Senior Class congratulates the Junior Class. If their promenade is a pattern of the type of entertainment they intend to present, we assure them that their affairs cannot fail.

THE FOOTBALL DANCE

THE FOOTBALL DANCE was held at Brattle Hall on Dec. 23, 1931. The football team appeared as guests of the Senior Class and enjoyed a very pleasant evening. The affair was not the financial success it has been in former years due to its proximity to Christmas. But as usual any that attended went home satisfied that they spent a most enjoyable evening.

THE SENIOR RECEPTION

PLANS ARE AT THE PRESENT in the embryonic stage, but the committee in charge promises to out-do all previous receptions. The Reception will be held at either the Hotel Commander or Walker Memorial. The music will be the best obtainable, and finally the affair will leave pleasant memories lingering on for many a day.

THE OLD SCHOOL GANG

Taken from the Boston Globe of January 17, 1932

There are times at night when the low lamp light
Plays tricks with my tired eyes,
That I see once more through a distant door
The dreams that the day denies.
How the hot tears start, and my harrowed heart
Is pierced with a poignant pang,
As I backward gaze on my childhood days,
And I dream of the old school gang!

There were Joe and me, and Stumpy and Lee,
And Freddie and Freckled Bill,
A fellow named Dick, that I wanted to lick—
I'm longin' to lick him still!
Oh, the pranks we played, and the plots we laid
In our new-discovered slang!
And the time we smoked till we coughed and choked
In the cave of the old school gang.
In the cave at night where, pale with fright,
We planned under pirate sails,
That we'd drop our dead till the waves ran red—
For dead men tell no tales

Yes, the tales we told while our blood ran cold,
And the artless songs we sang!
And the bamboo poles by the fishing holes
Where I sat with the old school gang!
And the tryst I kept where the willows wept
And I sued for my sweetheart's kiss;
But me and my pup had to give her up
'Cause the fellers called me "Sis!"
Oh, lads that I knew! You were tried and true,
And I mind how your glad cries rang;
But your lips are dumb, and the words won't come—
For gone is the old school gang!

Could my eyes behold and my arms enfold
Those childhood chums of mine,
I would give my all, and I'd call it small
As pay for such joy divine.
But those chums have flown, so I muse alone
Where mem'ry's portraits hang,
And I'd sell my soul if my lips could roll
A call to the old school gang.

. . . EPILOGUE . . .

HE FIRE SINKS LOW ON THE HEARTH. A chill creeps over him as he slowly turns the last pages of the book. Deep in his heart he wished that the times could be turned back to those happy, carefree days. His old friends are gone. He will never see them again. Many of them have achieved success, and yet they long for the old school days. They are glad to think, with pride, that they played the game for the sake of the school. It was their school that gave them their start in the world. It holds a place in their hearts that nothing else can hold. It is a tie connecting them with hundreds of other alumni all over the world. He meditates on these things as the time passes quickly. At last he softly closes the pages of his book and reverently puts it aside. The embers of his fire of life have been brightened by the thoughts of his old friends as by a dying spurt of flame. The fire sinks low on the hearth and dies away.
